Witnesses in the Hearing.

ALBANY, June 16.—The bright sunshine sent a glow to the Capitol this morning. Senators and Assemblymen made their way to the room where the Bribery Investigating Committee was sitting. Senator Sessions was on hand early, wearing a Half-Broad straw hat, a ministerial cravat, his diamond breastpin, and his remarkable gold chain. Mr. Bradley was also present. Mr. Sessions occupied a seat within the bar at the side of Rufus Peckham, and Bradley wandered around on the outskirts of the circle of operators. The District Attorney Albany County was again an interested observer. Erasmus Brooks, a Democratic member of the committee, who was absent yesterday, returned. He broke the centre of the Feather-bed and Stewart session of the committee by seating himself with Messrs. Scott and Car-

Draper on his right. This arrangement seemed to please Mr. Sessions. He had no more to say to the committee. William A. Graves, banker, a member of the firm of Spencer, Trask & Co.

of Albany, was the first witness. Senator Sessions placed the stump of a cigar in his mouth, piled his hands on the handle of his chair, and paid close attention to Mr. Graves's testimony. Mr. Graves said that Spencer

Trask, George P. Penobry, and Frederick P.

Noyes were the firm's principals. He said that the firm was organized Jan. 1, 1880. Before that he was employed by the New York Central Company. He was superintendent of telegraph and secretary to General Superintendent Til-lingham, who is now the Vice-President. His office was connected with the New York Stock Exchange by private wire. He had done business for Senator Sessions. The Senator had deposited with him $25,000. He had no more to say. When he wanted money he always presented his own check and drew on his account.

Mr. Graves—Have you a statement of his account Jan. 1 to Jan. 1? A—Yes, but I should not like to show it without Senator Sessions's permission.

The witness looked inquiringly at Mr. Sessions. The Senator neither nodded nor spoke.

"Oh, we can have no objection to your seeing the account," said Mr. Smith. The witness then turned to Mr. Bradley, who carefully examined it. It showed that the account was drawn on the 7th of June, when Mr. Sessions drew $25,000.

Mr. Bradley—In what form did you pay the money?
